2011 A Year to Remember

In This Edition:
Pastors Note p2
Life Groups p6
Finance Report p14

Welcome!

to Life@theLakes. It is great that you could join us in celebrating the life God has given us. We are excited about what God is doing and believe He is shaping us into a community which restores hope and healing to our broken world, one life at a time.

Our heart is for all people to connect with God -Life - and Each Other ... It is our desire that you would feel at home and find this is a community where you can grow to your full potential, learning to love God and others the same extravagant way He loves you.

A Year to Remember

While walking along emerald beach, just north of Coffs Harbour on New Year's day I was reflecting on all the memories this place brought to me. It was here that my family and I along with loads of other family and friends spent so many Christmas holidays. I thought about fun times we had walking along the beach with my uncles and aunties and cousins, learning to surf, playing cricket, and communal dinners. I also remembered the special walk I had with my aunty just before she died of cancer. The two of us walking hand in hand through rows of caravans, me mostly holding her up as we walked while she talked with me about the things that were on her heart, the greatest being her sons salvation. She said to me, "Phil when I go will you keep praying for David." I have never forgotten that conversation, but somehow being here again where it all happened made it all the more real. As I continued soaking in the memories I began talking to God about what memories we may create this year. I turned to Julie and I said, "this year I want to be a year where we create memories, where we see breakthroughs in our lives"

Who are the family, friends, neighbours you are called to pray for, care for, and share with this year?

What are the breakthroughs you want to see happen this year in your life and the life of those around you?

What about us as a church?

What is year 2011 going to be for us as a church?

What breakthroughs do you want to see happen in the life of the church?

My prayer is we see more salvations this year than our last 10 years put together. Jude reminds us that breakthroughs don't just happen. We must be intentional and passionately committed to see breakthroughs happen in ours and other's lives.

" But you, dear friends, build yourselves up in your most holy faith and pray in the Holy Spirit. Keep yourselves in God's love as you wait for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to bring you to eternal life. Be merciful to those who doubt; snatch others from the fire and save them; to others show mercy, mixed with fear—hating even the clothing stained by corrupted flesh. To him who is able to keep you from falling and to present you before his glorious presence without fault and with great joy—to the only God our Savior be glory, majesty, power and authority, through Jesus Christ our Lord, before all ages, now and forevermore! Amen. "
(Jude 20–25, NIV)

May this year, 2011, be a year to remember, not only in years to come, but for eternity .

Y-Zone

2011 will provide more opportunities for us to 'be active' with the youth with whom we rub shoulders! As a leadership team, we're thankful for the quality of young people we are privileged to be able to invest in. For each team leader, we're inspired to see the depth of individual relationships with Jesus, the hunger and desire that teenager's claim in their faith and the friendships which are built amongst the group of people who meet on Friday evenings.

Our Y Zone leadership team has benefitted from a weekend retreat @ Quinola Lakes. This time enabled us to debrief our 2010 journey, plan for 2011 and re-structure where necessary. Personally, Glen and I are encouraged by the commitment, dedication and love that our leaders put in place when it comes to getting alongside our teenagers – it sure makes parenting easier!

If you are a Y Zone parent, you will be notified soon of the intended programs as they come about term by term. You might notice that Y Zone will usually happen on Friday evenings, but there may be variety with some Fridays being missed and a Saturday activity thrown in here and there! The 6 pm project is definitely happening again! The maturity of our youth and their desire to go deeper into Christ is so evident so this is definitely another important aspect of this ministry.

The annual Y Zone camp on Tinaroo Dam is booked for April 15 – 17 so please mark your diary. If you are able to begin praying over this event, that would be awesome! Maybe you might like to begin putting away some dollars to sponsor a teenager or just be prepared to pay your own child's way! There will be more information soon.

Thanks so much for your prayers. We appreciate your interest, support and love for this valuable part of God's kingdom!

God bless,

Beth Mollenhauer

Childrens Ministries

Alien Kidz are running THE AMAZING RACE together for the first 5 weeks of this term. We are looking at the life of the Apostle Paul and the Amazing Race that God calls us to be part of. Our journey is based on 1 Corinthians 16:13-14 looking at one aspect of these verses each week..."Keep Alert. Be firm in your faith. Stay Brave and Strong. Show love in everything you do."

I am excited to be heading up this part of our Kids Church program in an interim capacity.

A big welcome to Travis, Sarah, James and Sam this term, the faithful Di is continuing on & while David Shliahov is stepping down from regular AK leadership, he has agreed to make guest appearances to help us all get established! I want to say a MASSIVE Thank You to these guys.

We need to build several teams of leaders and helpers to enable us to minister to the amazing kids in our church family, while also providing opportunities for the individuals in our teams to join with their families and the wider church family in church services on a regular basis. If you are interested in finding out more about serving in this way, to encourage our kids to develop their relationship with the one who longs to ROCK their WORLD, please come and chat to me or Phil. I know there are people out there with a heart for Kids and heaps to offer. Can't wait to hear from you!

We are excited to be starting our third year of KIDS HOPE AUS. mentoring program at Edge Hill State School. Mentors spend one hour each week with their child during the school day. We are seeing great relationships develop with the kids and with the school.

Thanks so much to our faithful prayer partners. Meetings with the school have highlighted a real need for new male mentors to get alongside some young boys who would really benefit from a good man able to consistently invest in their lives. If you would like to know more about this please don't hesitate to contact me or Phil Bignill to have a chat.

With Hope in Him,

Koala Kids

Koala Kids play groups start again in the first week of February. Each family joins a group for 2 hours per week and it's a fun time for children and parents alike. At mat time we sing rhymes and songs, we have a Christian component and we sing grace before eating morning tea together.

At Christmas one Mum, who doesn't go to church, but participates with us every week wrote a card of thanks with these words "I have very fond memories of my own Sunday School leaders and I am sure that both [my children] will not only have wonderful memories of Koala Kids, but thanks to you, they will have a lifelong relationship with God that you have been instrumental in introducing and nurturing".

We thank the Lord for the opportunity to tell about

His love and demonstrate His goodness to each one who comes to Koala Kids. Please join with us in praying for hearts to be touched and lives turned around by knowing Jesus this year.

Life Groups

It's always good to start the New Year with new challenges and one of the exciting challenges 2011 holds for me is helping to coordinate the life group ministry here at Centenary Lakes. I'll share some more about what my role involves in the coming months, but for now I want to take a moment to speak to two groups within our community – those who aren't currently part of a life group, and those who are leading or thinking of leading a group.

Why join a life group

You may be participating in the church community in some way but feel you haven't been able to establish meaningful relationships with those around you. For others it might be that you're going through a time of hardship and you're crying out for God to send someone your way to help ease the burden. For another group altogether it might be that you're travelling well and God has been building up within you a desire to care for and minister to others, but you're not sure how or where to start.

Each of these potential scenarios highlights that we have been created by God to be in relationship with one another and I believe life groups are a vital part of addressing these needs and living out our calling as a community of God's people. If you're not currently part of a life group can I please encourage you to take the time to seek God on whether 2011 is the time for you to become part of a life group.

Life group leaders

One of our key areas of focus this year will be how we best care for our life group leaders. My hope is that we not only provide leaders with the physical resources and training they require to carry out their role, but also the prayer, encouragement and further support they need to effectively minister to their groups. I look forward to communicating with each of our life group leaders in the coming weeks and months as we explore this further.

If you would like to chat further about life groups or you're ready to find a group, please get in contact with me and I'll be happy to help you take the next step.

The Kings Speech - prevailing through weakness

by Natalie Alexander

A Well-Being Australia volunteer young Comment writer for Christian Today Australia

Having just watched The King's Speech, a deeply moving film depicting the rise of King George VI of England, I am incredibly touched by the journey he took to the throne. This historical drama is directed by Tom Hooper, and we see Prince Albert's path to becoming King George VI unfold as his daily struggles with a serious speech impediment as depicted in this (fictionalised) account.

The film begins with a clearly nervous, overwhelmed Prince Albert facing his tremendous fear of public speaking at a packed Wembley Stadium. Out of the Prince's mouth stumble incoherent words, agonising pauses and the inevitable stammering. The microphone used for making speeches becomes the silent prop throughout the movie, which invokes fear and dread.

Watching Prince Albert's personal shame and embarrassment hit a cord with me. As summarised in the following: "For a king, stage fright is the supreme torment, the ultimate humiliation." (www.theaustralian.com.au/news/arts).

Here was a man in a regal position, with duties expected of him, yet through no fault of his own, he is rendered to a place of constant humility and frustration. In enlisting countless Speech Therapists, Prince Albert attempted a vast array of cures, some of which stripped him of the dignity and pride owed to him as an upcoming King of England.

Our own personal weaknesses may show up in our lives as a disability, illness or personality flaw. They too can render us weak, embarrassed and frustrated. For some of us we can hide our weaknesses but life does not always allow the safety of privacy. Sometimes, we too are confronted with our own 'microphones' where our personal weaknesses are outplayed before others.

The Bible is full of rich stories where God used men and women in powerful positions, who were also plagued with their own fragility.

Moses himself had a divine purpose to confront Pharaoh and lead God's people out of slavery. Moses contests with God "O Lord, I have never been eloquent, neither in the past nor since you have spoken to your servant. I am slow of speech and tongue." (Exodus 4:10)

Jeremiah was another prophet lacking greatly in self confidence yet called by God to be a prophet. "Ah, Sovereign Lord, " I said, " I do not know how to speak; I am only a child." (Jeremiah 1:7)

Both Moses and Jeremiah persevered and with courage were able to stand through difficult times.

The film, "The King's Speech" ends with great triumph too, as did King George VI in real life. Prior to becoming King, Prince Albert enlists the help from an Australian Speech Therapist, Lionel Logue, whose methods are somewhat unorthodox but none-the-less successful.

Progress is made through determination and courage. King George VI takes the throne and learns to embrace the microphone, which once caused him dread, with grace and dignity.

There is pain in weakness, but I think this movie highlights beautifully that humility really does come before honour, as it says in Proverbs 18:12. A Godly principle prevails in life where God's grace upholds us and there's an invitation for His strength to minister to our weakness. "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." (2 Corinthians 12:9).

Want to Connect?

Sometimes it can be a struggle to connect meaningfully with one another in a large gathering and often we can feel isolated. Finding a place to belong in a Lifegroup will draw you into a close knit, caring community where people know, love and support one another. It's an ideal way to become part of an environment that nurtures authentic Christian community, biblical teaching, and on-going discipleship.

Mission/Outreach

Jossy Chacko from EMPART (India) writes...

I am excited about our partnership and look forward to all that God has planned for 2011. I am so grateful for the generosity of partners like you who give and pray so that those without have the opportunity to receive food, clothing, an education and the chance to hear the good news of Jesus Christ.

Our leaders in India and international partners are also concerned about the devastating floods in Queensland and they are praying daily for those affected. Please be aware that a number of our partners have suffered great loss. We are contacting as many people as possible to see how we can help. Please join us in our prayers.

Despite the hardships, we still have a reason to celebrate. Friends, I am delighted to announce that 6820 churches have now been planted in previously unreached villages! Our brothers and sisters in India, Nepal and across other unreached regions of South Asia are working tirelessly to ensure that those in need are helped and have the opportunity to hear the loving message of Jesus.

Church Planters in India and Nepal conducted Christmas outreach in their communities by distributing Gospel tracts as they sang songs in the streets and showed the Jesus film. An Education Centre run by a Pastor in the slums of Haryana also provided a special Christmas program for the children. Kids played games, sang songs and enjoyed meals together, as teachers taught them the Christmas message.

I was challenged to hear that our brothers and sisters in India were not indulging in a Christmas feast as many of us have done. They chose to do something radical for Christmas day – fast. The meals that the believers gave up were given away to those in need. What an amazing example to us of sacrifice and a practical demonstration of what Christmas is all about. Please continue to give and pray to enable these precious people to change more lives. In eternity, you will be so glad you did.

Centenary Lakes Christian Community is privileged to be sowing into this amazing work that God is doing through EMPART ministry in India. PRAYER FOR NATIONS - please note that specific prayer for the nation of India takes place each Monday night 8:00 - 9:00pm at the Charlesworth's home. Please contact the office for further details.
